

Edward Ransom, B.Arch'84

Deputy Director for Energy & Sustainability | Massachusetts Division of Capital Asset Management & Maintenance (DCAMM)

Edward "Tony" Ransom, AIA, NOMA, CCM, LEED AP, BOC Lvl. 1, has spent over 46 years providing architectural and construction services in the greater Boston area. He moved to Boston in 1976 to attend The Boston Architectural College (BAC), where he received his bachelor's degree in 1984.

After working for several large and small firms in the Boston area, he opened his own company, The Ransom Design Studio, in 1989. There he performed design and construction services for the renovation of approximately 950 units of housing, a community health care center, accessibility, and interior design projects. In 2005, his inclinations toward Program and Project Management led him to alter his career path and focus on being an Owner's Project Manager for PMA Consultants.

Today, Mr. Ransom is the Deputy Director for Energy & Sustainability at the Massachusetts Division of Capital Asset Management & Maintenance (DCAMM). As the Deputy Director for the energy program, Mr. Ransom is charged with coordinating the implementation of energy, water conservation, sustainability, resiliency and decarbonization measures within construction and renovation projects throughout the Commonwealth's portfolio of 600+ facilities, and 4,300+ active buildings, comprising approximately 66 million square feet.

Mr. Ransom is a member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), the Board of Directors of the Boston Society of Architects (BSA), the Board of Directors for YouthBuild Boston (YBB, for 16 years), and is the Northeast Regional Vice President for the National Organization of Minority Architects (NOMA, 8 chapters with 600 members.)
